

Joe Valenti, the city's first GIS Coordinator, will resign from the City of Alexander City on April 29, 2011. The Public Works Department would like to thank Joe for his outstanding work ethic and determination. Joe's many skills were needed to develop the City's GIS. Joe has worked alongside Gerard Brewer, the City Engineer, and many other superintendents to help not only with GIS, but with long range planning and decision making. Please join us on April 29, at 2:30 for cake and festivities.

The City of Alexander City would like to welcome Jason Roebuck as the city's new GIS Coordinator. Mr. Roebuck graduated from Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, with a Bachelor degree in Geography & Geographic Information Systems and a Minor in Business Management. We look forward to working with Jason and the many opportunities for the future.
